Who Should Be Attend and Be Interested

The target audience is farmwomen with a passion for agri-business and/or involvement in an agri-business they married into, were a part of all their life, inherited or just plain wanted to start on their own.

Who is Leading the Program

Discussions will be led by local practitioners and educators from:

Texas A&M AgriLife Extension

with program support provided by:

Program Dates and Topics

Classes will be on Thursday’s scheduled for 6:00 to 9:00 p.m. on:

April 9th, 16th, 23rd, 30th, May 7th and 14th.

Topics to be discussed include critical decision-making and information areas addressing:

· Production Risk Management
· Marketing Risk Management
· Financial Risk Management
· Estate Planning Resources
· Legal Risk Management
· Human Resources Risk Management

Participants are encouraged to share their own perspectives and approaches so all may benefit from group experiences.

Coming to Fort Worth
April 2015

Annie’s Project

Thursday Evenings
6:00 pm - 9:00 p.m.
April 9, 16, 23, 30
May 7 and 14, 2015
Location: Fort Worth Botanic Garden Center

A Program for Farm Women

Annie’s Project is a nationally awarded workshop series for women. It’s focus is farm/ranch management and dynamic decision-making in the complex world of agriculture.

Educational programs of the Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service are open to all people without regard to race, color, religion, sex, national origin, age, disability, genetic information or veteran status. The Texas A&M University System, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the County Commissioners Courts of Texas Cooperating. Individuals with disabilities who require an auxiliary aid, service, or an accommodation in order to participate in this meeting are encouraged to contact the Extension office ten days before program at 817-884-1294.
Annie’s Project Mission
To empower farm women to be better business partners through networks and by managing and organizing critical information.

Location and Resources
- Fort Worth Botanic Garden
  Garden Center
  3220 Botanic Garden Blvd.
  Fort Worth, TX 76107
- Participants receive an Annie’s Project Portfolio with recordkeeping and decision support tools to enable better decision-making.
- Course sessions will introduce local resource personnel to answer questions and provide a support network after the program is complete.

More Program information at:
www.extension.iastate.edu/annie

According to the Census of Agriculture, the number of female principal farm operators in Texas increased 10 percent between 2007 and 2012. The complex task of balancing work and family makes the concerns of farm/ranch women unique.

Annie’s Project is designed to provide a support network of other women facing similar challenges. All program classes enable sufficient time for discussions in a “safe harbor” learning environment. Everyone is encouraged to share their observations, concerns and questions.

Questions may be directed to:
Marian Ross:  (817) 884-1294
Laura Miller:  (817) 884-1296
Jason Johnson:  (254) 968-4144

Registration Form
Annie’s Project Education Program
Name:  ____________________________
Address:  ____________________________
City:  ______________________________
Phone:  (   ) _______________________
E-mail:  ____________________________

Please specify information about your farm/ranch operation
Location (county):  __________________
Primary ___ Producer
Occupation:  ___ Landowner
     ___ Retired
     ___ Other  _____________
I produce:  ___ Crops
            ___ Livestock
            ___ Other  _____________

Registration Fee is $50 per person that covers materials for all six sessions. Fee may be paid by check made payable to:
Texas A&M AgriLife Extension
Account #: 222100-60010

Send Payment and Registration Form to:
Texas A&M AgriLife Extension
Tarrant County Plaza Building
Attn: Tanica Bell
200 Taylor, Suite 500
Fort Worth, TX 76196

Registration limited to 30 participants.